About André van Hoepen

André van Hoepen is a deputy civil-law notary at AKD who specialises in corporate law, which he combines with estate planning. An experienced adviser of national and international clients, André works on financial restructuring cases, mergers and acquisitions, demergers and conversions. His clients can also rely on him to provide advice on corporate or family governance.

Complementing his experience as a deputy civil-law notary, André used to be on the legal advice team of a Big Four accounting firm. As an external doctoral student writing a dissertation, he is an associate of the Centre for Notarial Law of the Radboud University of Nijmegen.
