

Benjamin Karimi

Tax Advisor, Attorney-at-law

bkarimi@akd.eu
+31 88 253 5174
+316 29 49 77 23
The Netherlands

Languages

- Dutch
- English
- German
- Persian

Admitted to bar

- The Netherlands

Education

- Universiteit Leiden: master's degree in notarial law
- Universiteit Leiden: master's degree in tax law
- Universiteit Leiden: bachelor degrees in Dutch law, notarial law and tax law

About Benjamin Karimi

Benjamin Karimi is an attorney-at-law and indirect tax lawyer at AKD. Benjamin is a member of the tax practice group and specialises in advising on a wide range of indirect taxes such as VAT, Customs and Excise and Real Estate Transfer Tax (RETT), related topics, and projects.

Benjamin is involved in advising both national and international clients on the complex daily issues such as cashflow and supply chain optimisation, review of the VAT position, the international and national supply of goods and services, management buyouts, handling VAT audits, the indirect tax aspects of due diligence and national and international group restructuring activity, but also real estate transactions, mergers and acquisitions and various other indirect tax issues. As an attorney-at-law, he also specialises in tax disputes including dispute resolutions and court representation, mostly in VAT and Customs and Excise cases.