About Joost Kil

Joost Kil is an attorney-at-law at AKD who specialises in construction and real estate law. He primarily assists clients in commercial real estate transactions and project development. Working on these projects, he focuses on drafting and negotiating a variety of contracts, including sales & building contracts, leases and development contracts. Joost also advises on and litigates in matters concerning rental law, construction law and procurement law.

His clients range from project developers to investors and construction companies.
